TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Council Called On To Improve Knowles Avenue Traffic Dangers

(Ed Note: A record number of residents, 15, turned out for the Monday night council meeting. Absent, for the first time in many meetings, were Mayor Paul Green and Councilman Ed Mooney.)

An otherwise routine city council meeting concluded Monday night when a member of the audience rose to demand better traffic controls on Knowles avenue, "before someone is killed."

George Wheeler, 352 San Diego, reported since Knowles has become a through street (it now connects with Westlake) "three accidents" have occurred for failure of proper stop signs.

"This is a dangerous arterial," Wheeler said, "and something should be done immediately to insure the safety of motorists and pedestrians."

Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi replied by noting that stop signs had been ordered for every north and south street leading into Knowles. He said the steel shortage had delayed the signs.

Wheeler also called for some action to "lessen the bottleneck at Mission and Knowles." He asserted that during the peak hours it is impossible to turn into Knowles for the parked cars along either side of that street.

Study

"We are now making a study of the situation," Chief Petrocchi said, "and this will be taken care of in the immediate future."

The chief indicated "no parking" signs would be posted on Knowles during the rush hours.

Chief Petrocchi also figured in another transportation question of the evening. In a letter to the council he called on a new stop for the Greyhound buses. He said it will be safer and more satisfactory, if the unloading zone is shifted from the corner of San Jose and Mission to Hillcrest & Mission (6298 Mission).

(The Hilltop Cab company soon will open a Greyhound bus station next door to 6298 Mission, Chief Petrocchi said.)

Bus Check

The council requested the city administrator to check into the problem, and make the necessary changes.

Still another transportation item was the introduction of an ordinance which will up the present 35c minimum cab fare for one-half mile, to 50c for one-half mile. The ordinance will become law within the next 60 days.

The city law will be in line with San Francisco where the present "drop" for cab fare is 50c.

More Business

Other business before the council Monday night included:

1. Partial payments to Ralph Larsen & Son of $24,075 for the "Community Center building; $17,410 to Bragato Paving Co. for work on Brunswick Street; $7,470 for Eaton & Smith for work on Knowles.

2. The council donated $50 to the San Mateo TB Association as their donation towards the Christmas seal campaign.

3. An ordinance was passed vacating portions of Abbot Street between Castle and Market.

MRS. ARABIE FINED $150 ON DRUG COUNT

Mrs. Ruby Lee Arabie, 38, of 50 Station avenue, was fined $150 and put on one year's probation Tuesday, after pleading guilty last week to illegal possession of sodium pentothal.

Judge W. J. Sweeney had dismissed three other counts against Mrs. Arabie, all based on violation of the State Health and Safety Code.

She was arrested at her home September 28. She said she was operating a clinic for alcoholics.

Community Center Refinancing Talks Held This Week

L. A. Representative Meets With Mayor

A representative of the Public Works Corporation of Los Angeles was in San Francisco this week to confer with local councilmen on refinancing the Community Center building, a city official reported today.

City officials seemed uncertain as to whom was to speak to the representative, although it was noted by one official that "Mayor Paul Green will meet with him sometime this week."

The mayor could not be reached for comment today.

The mayor is expected to make a report at the regular city council caucus meeting Monday.

Trip

Other councilmen contacted reported the outcome of the talks with the Los Angeles company representative will determine whether or not the mayor and city attorney will make a trip south to investigate how the refinancing has worked in other cities.

"We are looking into every possibility to complete the building," Councilman Fred Bertetta said. "However, this does not necessarily mean the lend-lease method is the best."

Briefly, the "lend-lease" plan would mean the city would borrow money from the Los Angeles firm, to complete the Community Center building. The loan would be met from money out of the general fund.

Rejected

Early last month voters rejected a plan whereby a new bond issue was to have been floated to raise $180,000 to complete the Community Center.

The council is investigating the "lend-lease" method as a means of finishing the building without the necessity of calling for another bond election in six months.

Earlier, Councilman A. J. Gaggero told The Record that the council would take no definite action until a public meeting had been held, at which time voters could express their opinions.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET THURSDAY

The Jefferson Elementary School Board will hold its regular meeting one week early this month, Thursday evening December 20.

The meeting gets underway at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 344 Santa Barbara.

Parents, and the public in general, are invited to attend.

Officials Pay Hike

Taxpayers Want Explanation

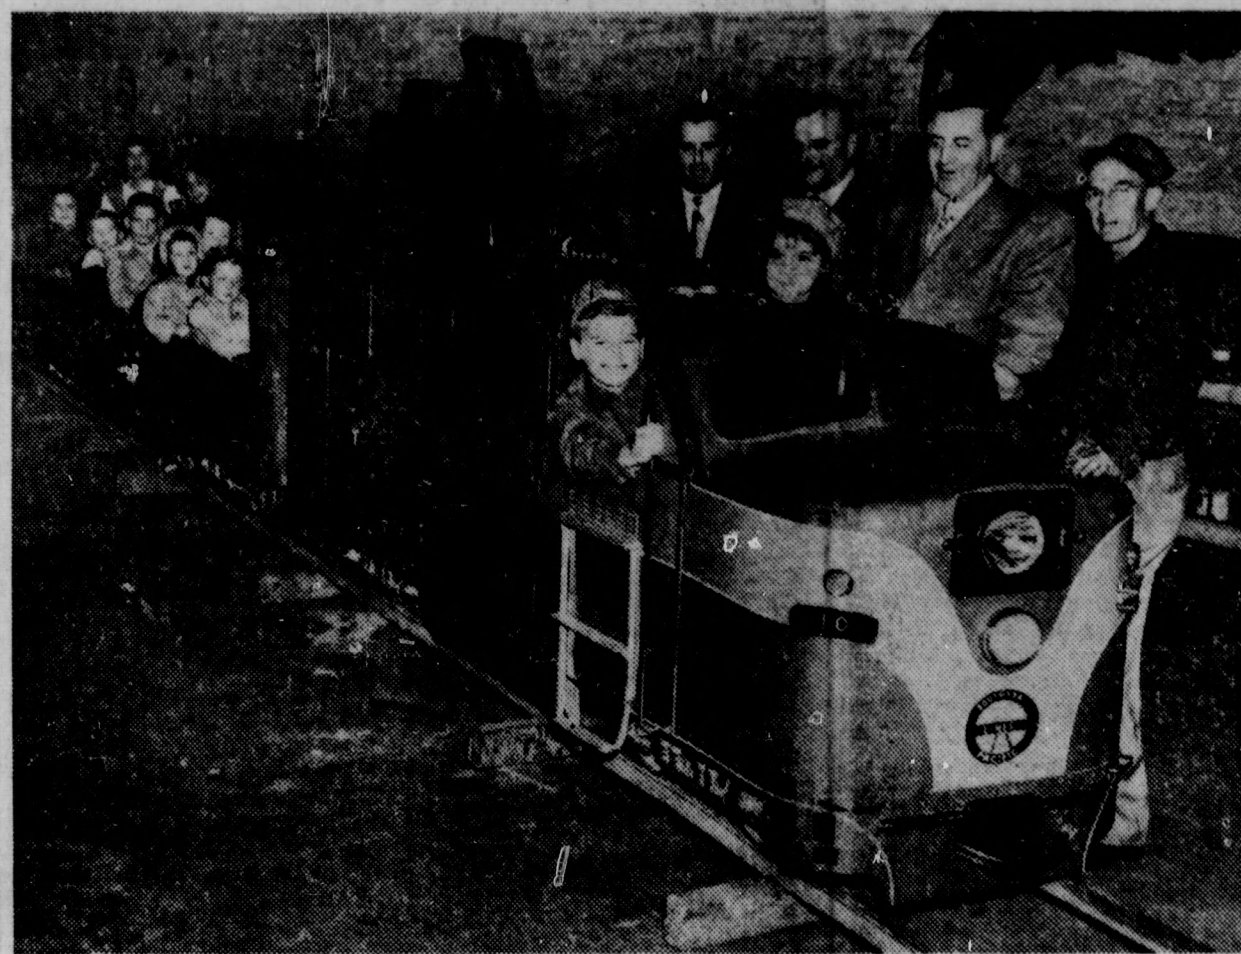

A full fledged investigation of the recent salary raises for 10 county elected officials was promised today by a San Mateo county taxpayers organization.

Representing nearly 1,000 county property owners, the organization will seek legislation to abolish interim salary raises, President Mervin L. Steinberg of Atherton said today.

The raises—ranging from $420 to $1500 annually—were granted in a surprise move by the county board of supervisors last Tuesday. They followed earlier pay hikes, granted less than one year ago.

Henry Doelger Invites Daly City Children To Greet Santa Claus Saturday

One of the largest single Christmas displays in America will be opened to Daly City children at 1 o'clock Saturday when Santa arrives at the Westlake Shopping Center "Snowland."

The old gentleman will come in on the "City of Westlake" streamliner. This miniature train, built by Ray Maker, is an exact replica of the famous Shasta Daylight. The $8,000 model is designed to carry 36 young passengers, and throughout the Christmas season will travel over 1600 feet of track in the Snowland display.

The train rides, as well as selected gifts for children, will be absolutely free, Doelger Company officials announced today.

Children aboard the train will see such things as a giant 16-foot snowman, an animated animal

RECREATION GROUP TO MEET MONDAY

The regular meeting of the Daly City Recreation Commission is to be held Monday, December 17, it was announced today.

The public is invited to attend the meeting which gets underway at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Completion of the Community Center building, and other recreation problems will be discussed.

Family Escapes Tavern Fire

Flames Near Upstairs Apartment

Approximately $500 worth of equipment was damaged by a fire at Eve's Place, 6582 Mission street, early Monday morning. Stock damaged was limited to a few gallons of wine.

According to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy the fire started when cigarette ends were emptied into a metal pail containing waste papers.

The spreading flames were noticed by Daly City police officers John Van Otten and Les Bastedo on a routine patrol at 2:45 a.m. Monday morning.

Rescue

They called the local fire department and then proceeded to the apartments above the bar where they conducted the tenants to safety. They numbered two adults in one apartment and two adults and three children in the other.

The end of the bar was burned off and the varnish on the remainder of it destroyed. The large mirror was cracked and further damage from the blaze was the result of the thick smoke.

The proprietor of the bar, Mrs. Evelyn Rupert, 80 Woodrow street, had closed the establishment at 2 a.m. and at that time there was no sign of a fire, in accordance with her statement to Chief Kennedy.

Owner of the building is Angelo Alexion.

It's Free Candy For The Children

Tromborg, the plumber, will be Santa Claus this year.

He announced this week that he will distribute 1,000 free bags of candy to children on Friday and Saturday, December 21 and 22.

"I'm giving the candy away on a first come, first serve basis," Santa Tromborg announced.

Kids interested in sharing the Christmas candy can zero in on Tromborg's Plumbing Company, 6512 Mission street, next Friday and Saturday.

Jefferson High Addition Work Gets Underway

New Cafeteria, Classrooms Slated

The green light was given this week for construction of a cafeteria and six additional classrooms at Jefferson high school.

At their regular meeting, the Jefferson high school board of trustees requested Architect Mario Ciampi to proceed with preliminary plans for the addition, Stanford Hannah, superintendent, said today.

The cafeteria and classrooms will be in a separate two-story building directly behind the present cafeteria. The ground floor will be turned over to the dining room, while the upper floor will house five or six new rooms, to be used for the new home-making department, Hannah stated.

Cost

Estimated cost of the new structure is between $250,000 and $300,000. The expense will be defrayed from a bond issue passed last year for such construction.

Meanwhile, the school board is discussing a price for land to be purchased for construction of a new high school near Skyline boulevard. Owners have asked more than the board is now prepared to pay for the property.

Until this land is purchased no work may begin on the high school which will be needed to take the increased enrollment load from Jefferson high school.

More Business

Other business before the board included:

1. Renewing the contract of Hannah for another four years. He has been superintendent of the Jefferson high school district for the past eight years.

2. Authorizing extensive repairs for the roof over the pool. During the past years "dry rot" has set in, and the roof is badly in need of repair.

3. Authorizing rehabilitating the track and football field.

Dumping Violators Fined Total Of $250

The city took in another $250 from dumpers this week.

In police court Wednesday Judge W. J. Sweeney fined the following persons for illegal dumping at Thornton Beach and at Peoria and Wellington:

R. J. Linda, Daly City, fined $50, suspended $25; Richard Tracy, fined $50; Albert J. Schinang, fined $50; Roland E. Mason, fined $50, suspended $25; Irving Tucker, fined $50—all from San Francisco.

Christmas Lighting Goes On Here Soon

Christmas lighting will be on over Daly City streets by the end of the week, Dan Andersen, city administrator, said today.

He reported the gay blue and red lights would have been up earlier, but the storms of the past few weeks have hindered the overhead work.

Children To Be Entertained At Two Big Shows Christmas Eve

Daly City's annual Christmas party for all the small fry in the community will be held this year on Christmas Eve.

There will be two parties, Monday, December 24, Elman Rose, recreation director, announced today. Both will be held at the Daly City Theatre.

The morning program, which will last about 2½ hours, begins at 9:30 a.m. It is for children who attend or live in the area of the following schools: Garden Village, Westlake, Jefferson, Thornton, Colma, and Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

The afternoon show, also at the Daly City Theatre, gets underway at 1:30 p.m. for children living in the area of the following schools: General Pershing, Crocker, and Woodrow Wilson. (Children who attend Our Lady of Perpetual Help and the Colma school, but who live in the area of the aforesaid three schools, are asked to attend the afternoon show.)

Tickets for both shows will be distributed this week to students in the various schools.

Plans for the annual party were made at a meeting last Wednesday between Rose and presidents of the various PTAs.

Those present were Mrs. Sharon Brandt, James L. Snell; Mrs. Jean Denning, O.L.P.H. Mother's Club; Mrs. Katherine Mullen, Crocker; Mrs. Muriel Keith, General Pershing; Mrs. Elsie Prisco, General Pershing; Mrs. Julia Bertetta, Colma; Mrs. Ann Eason, Daly City Women's Civic Club; and Harry Aronson, Supervisor of Recreation.

Community Chest Wind-Up Slated

Letters Sent To Raise Funds

The Daly City-Colma area this week was rallying to the support of the failing Community Chest drive which has seen this district fall more than $3300 behind in its 1951-52 chest goal.

In order to raise the funds needed to carry on the vital work of the chest agencies next year, a mail solicitation effort was started here this week with more than 500 letters being sent out to business and professional men.

Colma's mayor, Jack Price, who assisted with the chest campaign this year, said that he was sure that firm owners and other responsible citizens would not stand by and see the chest drive fail through neglect.

Price said that such worthy organizations as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Blood Bank, Children's Health Home, Catholic Social Service and others were completely dependent on the chest for support and if funds were not forthcoming from local citizens then these fine welfare groups would have to seriously curtail their splendid services next year.

He was certain that the response here would be prompt and that sufficient funds would be raised so that the Daly City-Colma area would go "over the top" in its chest drive within the next week.

Bookie Echoes

Local Real Estate Man Found Guilty Of Harboring Bookmakers In Shop

While the present federal tax of bookies has put them out of business in Daly City, echoes of a once thriving "trade" were heard in San Mateo county superior court this week.

Alex J. McArthur, 32-year-old Daly City real estate man, Friday, was found guilty of knowingly harboring bookmakers in the Lady Esther Pastry Shop he owns at 6157 Mission street.

After 37 minutes of deliberation a jury of four men and eight women returned the guilty verdict.

A First
This marked the first time in the history of San Mateo county a person has been convicted of harboring a bookie.

One of the prosecution witnesses was convicted bookie Aldo (Blinky) Ferraris, 32, who testified he rented the back of the apple strudel shop. He, and Robert L. Magidson, were nabbed in a raid on the shop September 13, and Ferraris was fined $3500 and Magidson $1500.

McArthur, who lives at 3299 San Jose avenue, will appear before Judge Murray Draper Monday, December 17, for sentence. The conviction carries a maximum penalty of from one to five years in prison.

Henry Doelger Invites Daly City

Idea
The idea for the display originated with Henry Doelger, builder of Westlake. Over the past years Doelger has had an elaborate Christmas exhibit in front of his home. The show drew so much attention, that this year he decided to make it even larger and transplant it to Westlake where it could be seen by thousands of children.

"Although we have Snowland in Westlake, this in no way means it is solely for Westlake children," Doelger said today. "After all, we are part of Daly City, and we extend a cordial invitation to every child in the Daly City area to visit Snowland, ride aboard the train, and speak with Santa Claus."

Free train ride tickets are available from any of the business men in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Giant Forest, in Sequoia National Park, was discovered by Hale Tharp in 1858.

TOYS, CLOTHING NEEDED FOR SANTA

Toys and clothing are badly needed by the St. Vincent De-Paul Society for distribution to families who might be missed by Santa Claus this year.

Those who have usable toys or clothing are asked to bring them to the Daly City store, 6740 Mission. A call to PLaza 5-4346 will bring a truck to pick up the items.

CAR OVERHEATING

A clogged radiator is the most common cause of automobile overheating, reports the California State Automobile Association. One simple method of testing a radiator is to run the engine at a speed slightly faster than idling speed for about five minutes. If the radiator is badly clogged, alternate cold and warm spots may be detected by passing the hand over the surface of the radiator core.

Christmas Party Slated December 21

A variety of badges and awards were given members of Cub Pack No. 84 at their regular meeting recently.

In addition, seven new boys were welcomed into the Pack. They include: David James, David Deiningner, J. E. Johnson, Garry and Larry Mikle, Jerry Hyndman and George Zofflin.

Awarded wolf badges were: Arthur Shanoian, George Ragazzino, Neal Cabrinha, Bobby Braun, Don Clemens, Willard Park. A bear badge went to Rickie Sater, and Barry Benier won a lion badge.

Webelos at the meeting included: Bill Spry, Rod Chisom, Jim Gustafson, Ric Schweitzer and Bill Brown.

Arrows were awarded: Don Harris, Don Clemens, Jed Cyr and Willard Parks.

The first two-year pins in the history of the Pack were presented Bill Spry and Harry Jacobs. Ray Flanagan left the meeting with a one year pin.

The entertainment for the evening was furnished by Dens 2, 5, 3, and 7. The boys presented a puppet show.

Fathers were thanked for co-operation in the paper drives which are held the first Saturday of every month.

The meeting concluded with the announcement that the annual Christmas party is to be held Friday, December 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Colma Community Center.

Woman In Auto Plunges Over Devils Slide

Survives Fall, But Drowns Minutes Later

A woman, identified as Lucienne Quirin, 516 Ellis street, plunged over Devils Slide in her automobile yesterday morning, survived the fall but lost her life minutes later when she jumped into the ocean and drowned.

Traveling north on Highway 1, her car went over the 300-foot embankment. A rescue crew working near by, saw the accident and rushed to help.

One of the crewmen stated that she crawled from the car and lay along side the wrecked automobile. The crewmen told her to lay still and they would get her medical aid.

A few seconds later she jumped up, threw off her coat and plunged into the ocean.

The crewmen were unable to rescue her because of the strong out-going tide.

Her body was found hours later by the Coast Guard. Among her possessions police found a marriage certificate, which indicated that she had been married in Reno on November 19 to George P. Zan. All other identification listed her as Lucienne Quirin, 516 Ellis street, San Francisco.

Devils Slide is approximately 15 miles south of Daly City near Rockaway Beach.

Orange Is Thrown Thru Kitchen Window

Hazards of washing dishes were illustrated in at Daly City home Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. Ward of 137 San Diego avenue, reported to local police that someone crashed an orange through the kitchen window just missing her daughter who was washing dishes at the sink.

In searching the premises, police found no trace of the orange tosser.

Oakland Naval Supply Center To Mark Decade Of Growth December 15

The Oakland Naval Supply Center will observe its tenth anniversary next Saturday, December 15, marking "a decade of growth with Oakland and California." Rear Admiral T. Earle Hipp, commanding officer, announced today.

The big Oakland Naval supply base, largest of its kind in the world, was formally commissioned just eight days after the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

"Since then," Hipp declared, "the Naval Supply Center has become the largest single industrial establishment in Oakland, and one of the most important military installations in California and the nation."

Reviewing the Center's development since its wartime birth, Admiral Hipp observed that "Actual growth leadership in the Nation's defense. It would be misleading to suggest that military activities are the basis of the Bay Area's growth. Rather, the military has grown because the Bay Area has."

Build-up

The big military build-up on the West Coast began long before World War II, he pointed out. "Planning for the Naval Supply Center actually began in 1910, when the Navy Department General Board policy report established San Francisco Bay as the key to Pacific Ocean Navy operations. A few years later, Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy, pointed out the ideal nature of Oakland as the location for the Navy's key supply base for the Pacific."

Events of the past 10 years have proved the wisdom of this choice, Hipp stated. Particularly during the early days of World War II, he said, the Oakland site's ready availability to rail and truck terminals was vital to the logistic support of the fleet.

The sprawling 500-acre supply base is built on filled-in land at the mouth of Oakland's Middle Harbor, an area that was once a favorite haunt of East Bay duck hunters. Actual construction began in 1940 with dredging and pouring of 3,500,000 cubic yards of fill.

Paper Work

By mid-1941 a few of the basic buildings had been completed and paper work to stock the depot was underway. Most of the Oakland depot's original stock was transferred from the Mare Island Navy Yard, which had been the Navy's only Bay Area supply base.

Original plans called for completion of construction work and complete stocking of the Oakland base before issues to the fleet began. World War II changed that, however, and the fledgling depot began filling small requisitions even before it was formally opened for business.

In March of 1942, still only about two-thirds completed, the depot loaded its first ship—the Aldebaran—with 1157 tons of refrigerated cargo bound for Hawaii. A month later it undertook the priority assignment of completely outfitting the advance base at Efate, in the New Hebrides Islands. Efate later became one of the main support bases for the invasion of Guadalcanal.

Commissioned

When the depot was commissioned on December 15, 1941, it had a total of 656 employees. It had grown to 4,100 by December, 1942, and reached its wartime peak of 14,000 in March, 1945. Present employment at the Supply Center and its two annexes at Pt. Molate and Stockton totals nearly 11,000. Combined payroll for these people is $3,963,800 a month.

When the Korean crisis broke, the Oakland Naval Supply Center, despite a big reduction in force which had cut its personnel down to a peacetime basis, possessed a tightly knit, highly skilled organization of trained logistics specialists, ready to proceed on an emergency basis at a moment's notice.

The first step taken was to increase the basic workweek to 6 days, and to work around the clock 7 days a week in depots, branches, departments, divisions, sections, and units where the work load meant a 24-hour stint in order to meet rush deadlines. Requisitions started to pour into Oakland from the entire Pacific Ocean area as well as Pacific coast installations. From an average of 19,762 line items requisitioned a month prior to the Korean incident, the figure jumped to the staggering total of 97,803 line items requisitioned during the month of August, 1950—an increase of 394 per cent.

Everything from toothpicks to turbines was shipped out in a never-ending stream of supplies. It is 5,000 miles from Oakland, Calif., across the vast stretches of the Pacific Ocean to Pusan, in Korea. It took lots of ships loaded to the gunwales with all sorts of supplies to get those supplies to the forward area in condition to be used immediately.

From the farms and factories of America the supplies were shipped out to the Pacific coast via train, truck, and plane. Oakland, Calif., by virtue of its central location,

Rod & Gun Club Christmas Party Slated Thursday

Public Invited To Attend Show

The Daly City Rod and Gun Club will hold its annual Christmas party at Jefferson high school Thursday, December 20, it was announced today.

The party will get underway at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Featured entertainers of the evening will be young television stars of the Betty Mae Studio.

All members and friends of the club are invited to attend, as well as the general public. There will be no admission charge, a Rod and Gun Club official said.

However, gifts will be given only to children whose parents belong to the club.

The institution of the "coffee house" was introduced to North America in 1668.

The Community Center In Caucus

We hear where the city council has decided to postpone the trip of Mayor Paul Green and City Attorney Frank Blum to Los Angeles until such time as more can be learned about the lend-lease Community Center financing.

Now, it appears, a representative of the finance company will come to Daly City, instead of Daly City going to the company. This is good news, in that it will save the city a few needed dollars.

Of more importance, however, is the fact that local residents now will be able to hear from the "horse's mouth" the exact method of refinancing the Community Center. The company representative should be able to explain the pros and cons of completing the building by the city borrowing the money for the project. There is just one hitch. Will that company representative be heard at a public meeting, or will he slip into town behind the doors of a caucus meeting? Will residents hear the facts from a man in the business of financing, or will they hear them, days later, via the words of city councilmen who naturally may be biased for the plan?

The refinancing of the Community Center (whether you agree on the current plan, or not) is of importance to everyone. Any information should be made public property. This is a matter of interest to every taxpayer, not simply to five men in a caucus meeting.

The city council does not appear to know when the Los Angeles executive will be in town. However, when he does arrive, we feel a public meeting is in order to hear his story. We hope the council agrees.

No Boundary For Santa Claus

Santa is going to get a royal welcome in Daly City this year, especially in Westlake where an elaborate miniature of his north pole home has been set up in the Town & Country Shopping Center.

And of course, the annual Christmas party for all children in the greater Daly City area will be held Christmas Eve.

What we wish to point out is that these parties are for all of Daly City... not simply for sections, such as Westlake and the "top of the hill." Some residents have the odd notion Santa is limiting himself to certain sections, that, for example, the Westlake exhibit is only for children whose parents happen to live in Westlake.

Frankly we fail to understand this type of reasoning. We are sure Santa Claus does not cater simply to the area, or to the size home in which a child resides. He has the habit of visiting everyone, drawing no line between popping up in the Daly City theatre, a San Francisco department store, or the Westlake exhibit.

There is one comforting thought... children draw no boundary lines for Santa. The kids will find him in Daly City, regardless of whether he chooses to spend his time in the Daly City Theatre, the street corner or the Westlake show.

Bus Shelters For Daly City

Transportation has been under the gun several times at the city council meetings. We are disappointed, however, that no one mentioned a desperate need in Daly City for bus shelters.

It isn't that residents are not aware of the need for such shelters, they simply fail to make themselves heard. We hope at one of these council meetings a resident will ask: "Why can't the city afford to put out a few dollars for bus shelters for at least the top of the hill?" The Record has long fought for such shelters, but so far has received little or no support from the very people these shelters will protect.

Once more, the council can hardly be expected to appropriate dollars (now a scarce item with the city) unless they feel they will be well used.

How about it, do the people of Daly City really need bus shelters? We would welcome some letters on this matter.

Billboards And The Jungle

It was Burnnet who described the average city as the "Asphalt Jungle." Fortunately, Daly City, with its beautiful homes, parks and generous plots of grass and trees, has escaped this definition.

We sincerely hope our fair city will never be defined in such terms, and the best method of avoiding this calamity is to check defacing items such as billboards.

There has been a tendency recently to erect more and more of these signs in the business-resident fringe areas of Daly City. One resident complained to the council that a billboard had gone up but feet from her home. Legally, the position of the sign complied with the zoning laws, but we can see no excuse for putting up the billboard so close to homes.

City officials are well aware of this danger, and have generally held the number of these signs down to a minimum. We hope they will continue their vigil, and not be swayed by demands for more and more of the billboards within the business-residential districts.

Let us keep Daly City a community of homes, not an "Asphalt Jungle."

Blood On Our Hands

A wounded Korean veteran appealed to a crowd of several hundred people in San Francisco to donate blood badly needed at the fighting front. Only 36 persons responded.

Such indifference is not peculiar to San Francisco. Unfortunately it is widespread, and has been seen in Daly City time and time again when similar pleas have been made.

There are some individuals, of course, who are not physically able to give their blood. But, unbelievable as it may seem, it has been reported that there are people who won't donate because they don't like the way the war is being handled in Korea. In other words, they would punish the boys in the line for the policies of our leaders!

Veterans returning from Korea are frankly appalled at public indifference to the fight for survival on the battle front. The boys thought the people would back them, but it seems that too many of us are too busy with other more important things—such as keeping up with our social activities.

Whenever a boy dies at the front for lack of the blood we failed to donate, we are as responsible for his death as the enemy gun that shot him down. That's a terrible responsibility, and it should prompt everyone who can to donate immediately. How about it?

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS

Military Secret

Story Told Of How Japanese Balloon Bomb Killed Mother And Five Children

A wartime top military secret—the killing of a mother and her five children by a Japanese balloon bomb which exploded on the Pacific coast—was disclosed during the weekly statewide broadcast presented by the State Office of Civil Defense.

In addition to revealing homeland casualties resulting from enemy weapons, the broadcast detailed construction of the bombs and their method of operations.

Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense, used the bombing story to emphasize the necessity of Civil Defense preparation in California's rural areas.

"The story of the Japanese balloon attack against this country during World War II is fantastic—but it's true," General Robertson declared.

Outmoded "It's a story of enemy ingenuity that actually took place in a former war—a type of war that is now outmoded with the advent of atomic bombs, guided missiles and the weapons with which the next war will be fought—if it comes.

"The story best serves to point out one thing to everyone living in California—that there is a definite need for eternal vigilance in home defense.

"That vigilance, which is an essential part of Civil Defense, must be statewide. An attack against cities with atomic bombs, the launching of biological warfare, the widespread use of incendiaries against our timber resources, are real possibilities.

"There's a job for you to do in Civil Defense, regardless of where you live."

Dale Williams, OCD Regional Coordinator of Region 2, Siskiyou, Modoc, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Plumas, Glenn and Butte counties—who is acquainted with the Japanese balloon bombings, was delegated by General Robertson to relate the story during the broadcast.

Released "The balloons were inexpensive to build and they were released to

Men Accepted For Air Force

New limitations on Air Force enlistments have restricted the number of volunteers for the Air Force who may be accepted from this area.

However, recruiting officials stated today that no long waiting list has yet been established. For the present, applicants are still being offered the opportunity of enlisting for the Air Force.

Further information is obtainable at recruiting stations at 2865 Mission street, 5840 Geary street or 30 Van Ness avenue.

and five children, residents of Bly, Oregon, a community of 200 about line.

"One Sunday, a minister, his wife and five children of families living in Bly, went on a picnic," Williams related. "As they came to a spot in the woods for their picnic, the minister's wife and the children went ahead while the minister was unloading the lunch.

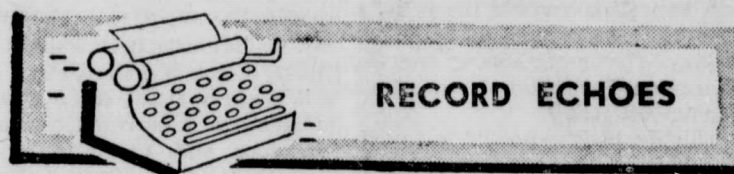

Explosion "One of the youngsters shouted, 'Look what I've found.' The minister yelled to leave it alone. But his warning was too late. The bomb exploded and, in a split second, wiped out the little group. The minister's wife and all five children were killed."

Williams warned that the islands from which the Japanese released their balloon bombs are now in Russian hands and that the Soviets are aware of their use. For those reasons, he said, people in rural areas must realize they are not immune from attack and should prepare a vigilant Civil Defense.

"People up in the lumber country know from their experience of the last war, that it can happen here," he concluded.

Release "At night, when the air cooled, the balloon would begin to come down. As the balloon began to descend over there over the Pacific, the altimeters would cause the release of the sandbags."

Release of the sandbags, he continued, caused the balloon to regain altitude and make the trip in an estimated 120 hours—five days. The only known victims of the Japanese bombs were a woman

At the last meeting of the Daly City Fire department, a resolution was passed commending the city council for its excellent management of the city finances which made it possible to construct Reservoir No. 2. That a reservoir of one million gallon capacity and costing approximately less than twenty thousand dollars, could be constructed with no additional taxation is something which the fire department believes should be drawn to the attention of the residents of this city.

Pfc. Greci Says He Does Not Want Daly City Changed To Vista Grande

November 29, 1951
Korea

To whom it may concern:

I wish to thank all of you for sending me The Record. As you know I have lived in Daly City most of my life, and I do enjoy reading the paper.

I see that they are trying to change the name of Daly City to Vista Grande.

I hope it doesn't get changed, but I guess it does not matter what I think.

Thanks again, for sending me The Record.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Arthur Heyden, Chairman
Clothes for Korea Drive
Court St. Mary's No. 1155
Catholic Daughters of America
231 Los Olivos Avenue
Daly City, California

Dear Mrs. Heyden:

On behalf of my Government and over eight million war refugees in Korea, I would like to express my deep gratitude and sincere thanks to the members of your great organization, Court St. Mary's No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, and especially to you for a successful conclusion of the collection of clothes for Korea campaign.

The fruits of this drive will mean that many thousands of homeless, ill-clothed men, women and little children will survive from death during this extreme severe cold winter.

This warm gesture from our friends in America not only will alleviate our war suffering people from cold and hunger, but it will also restore their hopes and faith for the future and encourage them to resist the demon directed communist aggression until they are completely defeated.

Our people will everlastingly engrave within their hearts, your generous, merciful and sympathetic kindness.

I also would like to say thanks to the Mayor of Daly City, the people, the press and KRON-TV station who so generously loaned you their full cooperation which made it possible for this drive to be a huge success.

I humbly beg you for your prayers not only for our poor war refugees but also for a United Independent Korea after this war is over.

With our best wishes and regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Young Han Choo
Consul General

Mrs. Heyden Thanks Residents For Assisting In Korean Aid

To the People of Daly City:

May I extend our thanks from Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, to the people in this area, who opened their hearts to the war refugees of Korea with warm clothes and shoes for this winter.

Within this week over 50,000 pounds of clothing from Daly City and elsewhere, aboard an army transport, will be headed with its warm cargo for a Korean port, where the clothes will be reconditioned and distributed to the stricken people of South Korea.

Our gratitude goes to the following business and location centers for their cooperation in handling clothes depositories: Mode O'Day, who supplied all the cartons for packing clothes; Daly City and Serra Theaters; Ice Cream Land; PG&E; Gerson's Dress Shop; Mary's Dignette; Godfrey's Ice Cream; Firehouse No. 2; King's Market; Westlake Town & Country Food Center; Fran's Beauty Nook; Crocker; the James Snell and Woodrow Wilson PTA; and Daly City Scout leaders; and to KRON-TV station, who helped reach the people over the air.

Sincerely,

MRS. ARTHUR HEYDEN,
Clothing Chairman

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

Met a man the other day who boasted bird watching as a hobby. Hate birds, but might be well worth looking into. Besides, appears like a prudent means of escaping time and work.

How is it done? Take a manual, preferably on birds, study diligently until can spot a robin from a canary. If possible seek out a live bird. But bird must be on the wing. Manual says not cricket if stowed in cage, or stuffed in study.

Equipment Small scale warbler watchers have limited equipment... pair of old tennis shoes, stub of a pencil, strong eyes and a compass. Compass should be small but accurate. Comes in handy when trying to find way home.

More lively, richer enthusiast brag of binoculars and new pair of tennis shoes. Also tend to look like washed out drays. This is a generalization, not always true. Our friend resembles dissipated crow.

Ready for wood and glen, bird watcher looks for birds. Not as easy as it seems. Not many of the feathered tribe hanker to meet domesticated snappers. Stalking simplified by knowledge of birds' hideout. Most nestlings in trees, except for those who prefer tall grass or old derby hat. Elementary. But where to find a tree, outside of park, in Daly City area?

Unfair

Once bird located, unfair to shoot or club to death with bird manual. Must examine him, using naked eye or binoculars. (Sometimes it is a she, but sex knowledge comes only with experience.)

Study bird long time. Yawn. Scribble notes about warbler's feeding habits. Remember it is time for dinner. Yawn. Idly watch pussy cat sneaking up on nest. Cheer. Cat downs bird. Study ended.

Go home. Chuck bird manual in the stove.

Look for man who won prize knitting. Seems like less strenuous sport.

Colma Man Loses Appeal For Trial

Denied an appeal for a new trial by Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott, Wesley Emmet, No. 88 Edgeworth street, Colma, this week was fined $250 and put on two years probation.

Judge Scott upheld the findings of a Daly City jury which October 23 found Emmet guilty of drunken driving.

Judge W. J. Sweeney assessed the heavy fine after noting this was Emmet's second such offense. In addition to the fine, the Colma man was put on two years probation and his driver's license was revoked.

First Democratic Pre-Primary Meet Slated February 2

Delegates Selected For County Conclave

Delegates are now being selected for the first Democratic pre-primary convention in San Mateo county political history to be held Saturday, February 2, Burlingame.

Roy Seagraves, Burlingame attorney and chairman of the convention committee, made this announcement today after his plan had been officially approved by the San Mateo County Democratic Central Committee.

According to Seagraves, delegates who will be entitled to vote at the convention will be accredited from the following groups: one from each of the 544 precincts in the county; all Democratic voters registered in the county who are city, county or state officials or who are members of the county central committee, the ninth congressional district committee, the state central and executive committees and the national committee.

Seagraves stated that the convention will have morning and afternoon sessions. The main business during the morning will be the naming of committees, the election of permanent convention officials, the adoption of reports by committees and a keynote address by a major political figure.

The afternoon will be devoted chiefly to the nominating and endorsing of candidates for the following political offices to which San Mateo county is now entitled under the new re-districting plan: two state assemblymen, one state senator and one United States Congressman.

Court St. Mary, CDA, Breakfast Well Attended By Members Sunday

By MRS. ARTHUR HEYDEN
What with the air a little nippy these mornings, many members of Court St. Mary Catholic Daughters of America turned out for its annual pre-Christmas Communion Breakfast.

Members attended the 8 a.m. Mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Daly City, with Father O'Reilly celebrating the Mass, with beautiful music throughout the Mass, with Mrs. Fred J. Wettstein at the organ. Members were served breakfast in the school cafeteria.

Guest speaker, Miss Vivian Juri of the Monitor staff, in charge of the Women's Page, was introduced by the Courts Grand Regent, Mrs. Richard J. Ennis.

Miss Juri gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on the Legion of Decency, which has brought about a higher standard of moral films and books before the public since its institution.

State Secretary Mrs. Milton C. Weckerle was called on. She spoke on a new radio series of the family rosary, professionally produced by Father Peyton, which will appear on the radio in the near future, being sponsored by Catholic Daughters of America throughout the United States, which will be broadcast over the entire world networks.

The tables were beautifully decorated by Mrs. Arthur Heyden, and carried out in the spiritual Christmas theme, with the Infant Jesus lying in His manger as the main centerpiece, the rest of the tables being artistically arranged with Christmas greens, English holly, pine cones and red tapers. Each member received a miniature Infant in It's Crib at their place.

Many thanks were extended by the Grand Regent to Mrs. Rose Gardella, chairman in charge, and her committee, consisting of Mesdames R. McDonough, R. J. Ennis, M. C. Weckerle, and Dorothy Stewart.

The next meeting will be held December 20, after which there will be a Christmas party and exchange of gifts between the members.

Marilyn Ann arrived December 4 to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Thompson, 262 Los Olivos avenue. She was born at Mary's Help and weighed seven pounds and nine ounces.

Church Presents Xmas Programs

Programs of Christmas music will feature the morning services at the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church both this Sunday and next Sunday at 11:15 a.m. Also there will be special sermons by the pastor of the church, the Rev. John A. Glaspey.

Another yuletide entertainment at the church will be the presentation of a pageant, "The Nativity" on December 23 at p.m. This event is being directed by Mrs. William Nye.

The Sunday morning Christmas programs will be comprised of selections by the church choir directed by Miss Nancy Slayton as well as numbers by the men's chorus. Vocal solos Sunday will be rendered by Miss Slayton and Peter V. Amirkhan.

The following Sunday morning the soloists will be Miss Slayton and Chris Gnesios.

District Chapter Of RNA Here For Annual Meeting

Vista Grande Camp Hosts Officials

The twelfth annual meeting of the Golden Gate District of the Royal Neighbors of America was held in the Masonic Hall, December 7, 1951, the Vista Grande Camp of Daly City as hostess for the evening.

The state supervisor, Christiana Hamill, and the city deputy, Alice Didier, were the honored guests and special speakers for the evening. Memorial Service was held for departed members of the past year.

Class of Initiation for new members was also given. At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

The Vista Grande Camp of the Royal Neighbors was organized in 1908 and one of the first fraternal organizations in Daly City. The Royal Neighbors of America was organized in 1895 for Fraternal and Insurance purposes, entirely operated by women.

The local camp met December 7, 1951, for their annual Christmas dinner at the Little Italy Hall.

Regular meetings are held every first and third Friday of each month at the Little Italy Hall.

LOCAL WOMEN HELP WITH XMAS GIFTS

Mrs. Ethel Dorn of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was made chairman of the volunteers from the different Peninsula organizations to wrap Christmas packages for the patients at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital.

Those assisting in wrapping packages from Old Glory auxiliary were Mrs. Dorn, Mrs. Marie Gehrig, Mrs. Ethel Harris, Mrs. Bonnie Ellenwood, Mrs. Catherine McKeown, Mrs. Marjorie Johnson, Mrs. Clara Poket and W. Dorn.

Fifteen hundred finished packages each containing five or more articles were made ready for distribution on Christmas eve to all the patients.

CHURCH PRESENTS ILLUSTRATED TALK

Sunday morning at the Grace Nazarene Church, Wesley Emel will present a special illustrated color slide message for the children. His service will be called "The Littlest Camel Kneel."

Mr. Emel will have another illustrated message entitled "The Christmas Blessing" at the Sunday evening service at 7:45. There will be additional music and a singing.

OUTDOOR DISPLAYS FOR BROADMOOR

An outdoor Christmas decoration contest is announced for the Broadmoor area to be sponsored by the Broadmoor Property Owners association.

Displays will be judged on the basis of artistry and originality rather than on the expense involved. The judging will take place on December 21.

Name of the contest judges will be published in The Record next week.

Women's Group To Hold Installation

Fourth annual installation of officers of the Women's Council, Grace Presbyterian church, will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

The annual business meeting, with reports of the work accomplished by the Women's Council and the six circles, will be presented.

The following officers will be installed with Mrs. William Harberts as installing officer: Mrs. Andrew Anker, president; Mrs. Alfred Runnells, vice president; Mrs. Gene Andrus, secretary; Mrs. Stanford Hannah, treasurer; Mrs. Lulu McFadden, world service; Mrs. Walter Kesler, fellowship; Mrs. Margaret Archer will act as the scripture reader and Mrs. Lois Adams as the poem reader.

Mrs. T. B. Cave and Mrs. A. Greig will bring a devotional. Miss Marian Walker will sing, "This Is My Task." Phyllis Blackburn and Lorraine Bergstrom will act as candlelighters.

Following the installation service, a silver tea will be served in the fellowship hall. Circle No. 3 hostess, Mrs. Chester Tyner is chairman. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Westlake PTA

Rag Drive Planned Next Month To Raise Funds For New Organization

The regular monthly meeting of the Westlake PTA was held December 6 at the Westlake Clubhouse, 95 So. Mayfair avenue.

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. John Glaspey, of the Community Presbyterian Church of Broadmoor, who addressed the members on "Tolerance."

Rev. Glaspey stated that to "live and let live in the spirit of consideration of those with different viewpoints," and "respecting beliefs of all" are some of the consistencies of being tolerant.

Other highlights of the program were: a solo played on the accordion by Joyce Navarro, a Cape Dance by Marilyn Marshall, an acrobatic dance by Eloise Zonone, a recitation of the Night Before Christmas by Dixie Howell and James Heick, a song "Frosty the Snowman" by Laurel Klaisner and April Moseley, and a talk and display of rocks by Linda Davidton.

Business

During the general business meeting, it was decided that multicolored draperies be purchased for the teachers' room, and to outfit the Safety Patrol Boys. Also, it was decided to join the Co-ordinating Committee in whatever project they may decide upon to raise funds for the supplying of milk to needy children in our school district.

To raise additional funds for the Westlake PTA, a Rag Drive will be held on January 11, 1952.

The meeting for the evening was preceded by the Cub Scouts leading the unit in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Refreshments for the evening were provided by the First Grade room mothers.

Prize-Winning Home Offers Christmas Decorating Ideas

(Ed Note: This article is of special interest to those decorating their homes in Westlake for the $350 prize contest.)

There are lots of good ideas in the prize-winning home pictured above that you may want to borrow for your own outdoor holiday decorating this year.

This simple frame and stone house was transformed into a fairland of glowing color by the man of the house who made many of the decorations in his home workshop.

In addition to outdoor Christmas bulbs which outlined the roof line of the house, colored bulbs were entwined in the festooning of the greens around the door.

Two giant candles, cut from composition board and covered in shiny aluminum foil were spotlighted by two 150-watt projector floodlights concealed in the shrubbery. Notice how "rays" around the candle flames are created with colored outdoor bulbs mounted on circles of wire fashioned like a wheel.

Standing below the bay window with its indoor lighted tree are three winsome choir-boy cutouts. Notice how the tiny figures are floodlighted by the outdoor unit on the ground in front of them.

Although the pair of candles beside the choir trio are lighted fluorescent tubes, General Electric lighting specialists suggest that simple candles can be constructed from iron water pipe inserted in a jug or crock. Wire a standard outdoor socket in the top of the pipe and use a colored bulb for the flame.

Italian-American Benefit For Italian Flood Victims Scheduled This Friday

by The Rev. A. R. Bandini
A benefit soiree for the relief of Italian flood victims will be held Friday, December 14, at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, it was announced today.

This event is expected to tax the capacity of the Civic Auditorium, both on account of its humanitarian purpose and the excellence of the program offered.

The artistic part includes a performance by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, conducted by guest conductor, Massimo Freccia, already so favorably known in this city. A quite special attraction will be the youthful Anna Maria Alberghetti, the phenomenal coloratura soprano, who has made such a hit in the Bing Crosby production, "Here Comes The Groom." Other features will be announced later.

The Italian Catholic Federation, which sponsors the event, secured the services of Father Antonio Lisandrini who is just winding up his magnificent successful Jubilee Crusade in California. He has most cordially accepted the invitation to deliver the main speech of the evening, postponing his return to Rome. His popularity assures a capacity audience.

The enormous extent of the Italian disaster has aroused public sympathy in every quarter; Mr. D. J. Zellerbach, formerly at the head of the Marshall Plan Administration in Italy, has accepted the Honorary Chairmanship of the evening and the Italian Consul General, Baron Muzzi-Falconi will preside.

Auxiliary Members Attend Convention

Several members of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, attended the 12th district meeting at Palo Alto Sunday. The next district meeting convenes in Watsonville on February 19.

Attending Sunday's meeting were the junior vice president, Mrs. Eleanor Cochran, Mrs. Ethel Dorn, Mrs. Marie Gehrig, Mrs. Ruth Brulez, Mrs. Marjorie Johnson and Mrs. Clara Poket.

P.T.A. GROUP WILL MEET DECEMBER 19

Rendition of Christmas carols and a speaker will comprise the program at a meeting of the Hillside Parent-Teacher Association, Wednesday, December 19, at 8 p.m. at the Colma school.

Carols will be sung under the direction of Mrs. M. Vint.

The speaker is Miss Hilda Taba, director of inter-group education of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Her topic will be "Inter-Group Relations."

DEAR PARENTS By JANE KEITH

This year our house is being "home" decorated for Christmas and I can assure you that the effects achieved by my children are stupendous — and definitely not to be found in any prosaic old department store!

Why even Gumps, noted for their sophisticated and lovely window dressings, have never thought of spangling a rug with bits of sparkling and non-sparking paper. Now have they? And even if they have I'll bet they didn't use paste, too!

Of course, the creative spark in children—at least my children, is seldom if ever dimmed by such mundane considerations as cleaning up after. Such work is reserved for cloths such as myself and other mothers. Cleaning up, fetching, carrying — especially food, and most important of all—being highly enthusiastic of their creations; such things are for mothers. But, when I first saw the living room rug, I confess to having a quiet fit.

"Who did it?" I shouted through Time for Beany, "and who is going to pick up this MESS?"

"You don't have to shout, mother," says Malcolm, calmly, "We can hear you."

Curtains

"How do you like the curtains, mother?" asks Barbara stepping back to admire a line of green paper trees pinned to the curtains, "Or do you think the bells would be better?"

"See how many we made!" chorlines Betty Ann happily—snipping away at a fresh piece of paper.

"Well, children, they really are beautiful," I said, holding my voice down to almost normal, "But, look at the floor! Now the rain has stopped, it's almost dinner time, and who is going to clean up in here?" I paused for a moment to switch Beany into oblivion. "Did you hear me?"

"Well, gee whiz, Mother, we can't pick all of those up! They're snowflakes! For Christmas decorations!" they chorused shrilly. "Don't you even want the house pretty for Christmas?"

"Certainly I want the house pretty for Christmas," I snapped right back at them, "But look here, Barbara, you're old enough to know better. You tell me how this snowflake business got started. And right this minute!"

Spoiled

"Well—" Barbara muttered, twisting a spoiled bell between her fingers, "We didn't mean to—but some of the pasted ones fell on the rug and we walked on them by mistake—and—" she stopped twisting and looked me in the eyes. "SO-O-O, we thought if we cut a lot more and spread over them they'd look pretty and you would—" off into silence and three pair of eyes watched mine—waiting for the axe to fall.

It didn't. The doorbell rang just then and the children scooted to safety upstairs while I admitted a "mother" acquaintance previously asked for coffee.

"Oh," she smiled, "You, too?" and ran the toe of her shoe idly through the new paper nap on my rug. "You're lucky. Mine did it on the bedroom walls and now we'll have to paint after Christmas. Or," she gasped, "did your's use paste, too?"

"Well I have to clean after Christmas," I said seriously, "But, did you ever see a prettier bunch of snowflakes in your whole life? And trees, and bells?"

"Why, I'd tan their—" my friend started blurring, but I pulled her into the kitchen and placed a finger over my mouth for silence.

"Look," I said loudly enough for the children to tune in from upstairs, "They had an accident with the paste and tried to cover it up because they thought I'd be angry. And I was angry until they told me the truth about it. But," I sloped coffee into the saucers emphasizing my point, "telling the truth is nothing to be punished for in my book of rules."

"Okay, okay!"

"Okay!" I answered, raising my cup for a refill and feeling the Christmas spirit — along with "Beany"—and the children creep back into the living room.

PERSONALITY QUESTIONNAIRE

1. Do you get annoyed when your plans are upset?
2. What type of motion pictures do you prefer?
3. Do you enjoy meeting new people?
4. Does the weather effect your moods?
5. What are your hobbies?

Dear Dorothy:
I am a self respecting, highly responsible bachelor who is being forced into a very uncomfortable position because of high prices, high taxes and wages that remain pretty much the same. I enjoy dating but I find that it is impossible to pay all my living expenses and at the same time have dates. The women I date all have good jobs and could foot their share of the bill when we go out.

So far, though, my pride has kept me from suggesting that they do this. Now, however, it has really come to the place where I'll have to stop dating entirely or else insist that they pay half the dating expenses. Whether they care enough about going out with me to do this, is something else again, of course. And it's a chance I'll have to take. But, what would you suggest? And do you think I'm asking too much to require my companions to help me foot the entertainment bills?

Economically Trapped

Dear "Economically Trapped:"

Considering today's high prices, I see absolutely no reason why employed men and women can't share equally in the expenses of dating. Any woman who isn't willing to take a realistic attitude of today's economic picture, certainly isn't worth taking out at the cost of subjecting yourself to financial hardships.

And as dating is frequently the foundation for marriage, what better way to find out if a woman will cooperate in this serious partnership than by asking for her consideration now.

Outstanding Program Promised For Hillside PTA

Meeting Slated December 19

An outstanding program is in store for the members and friends of the newly organized Hillside Parent-Teacher Association at their next regular meeting, which will be held at the new Colma upper grade school, Wednesday evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs. John Daniels, first proxy of Hillside, has many interesting business items on the agenda for the meeting; and Mrs. John Bergstrom, vice president and program chairman will have a real Christmas package in the way of entertainment for the meeting.

Dr. Hilda Taba, of Stanford University, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Taba is widely known throughout the country, and is now chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Her topic for the evening will be on "cultural relations" and should prove most interesting to the parents, and friends of the Hillside group.

In keeping with the season, traditional music under the direction of Mrs. Muriel Vint will be presented. Mrs. Vint is the supervisor of music in the Jefferson School District, and one of her choral groups will sing Christmas songs Wednesday night.

At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served by the room representatives of the Hillside Parent-Teacher Association.

Lutheran Church

Old Testament Text Sermon Topic

During the church year, which began last Sunday, the Rev. Robert G. Konzelman, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, will preach on a series of Old Testament texts.

Each text is related to the one preceding and following. Next Sunday's sermon will be on "Prepare Ye The Way Of The Lord." The same sermon will be delivered at both the 8:30 and the 11:00 a.m. service.

Sunday School and Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m.

The church is located on the corner of Garfield and Junipero Serra boulevard.

Group Initiates New Members

Two new members were initiated at a regular meeting of the Lake Merced Auxiliary No. 9921, Veterans of Foreign Wars held Tuesday night at the Broadmoor Community Center.

Besides initiating Claire Alves and Yvonne McBain into the group, they were also appointed as color bearers. Jean Cuykendall was appointed the new secretary. Lorraine Monks was elected guard.

The organization will prepare 500 Christmas gifts for the Broadmoor children's Christmas party December 22 at the Serra theatre. The rummage sale of the auxiliary has been set for January 28, 29 and 30 at a locale in San Francisco to be announced later. Persons having articles to donate to this project are asked to phone Hazel Eagleton at PLaza 5-3378.

SANTA OFFERS PRIZES FOR BEST LETTERS

Why not write a letter to Santa Claus and win one of the big surprise packages he has waiting for you in the office of The Record?

All boys and girls, nine years of age or younger, are eligible to write to St. Nicholas in care of The Record to compete for a prize. The name, address and age of the youngster must be on each entry and all letters will be judged according to the age of the contestant.

The following are some of the letters received in The Record office this week for Santa Claus:

Dear Santa Claus: I would like for Christmas if you still have in your toy shop a Toni doll and some stationary.

For my sister Debra could you bring a little doll so she won't break my Toni. She is only 1 year old and I am 6.

Penny Almquist, age 6

Dear Santa Claus:

This is the true story of a Sausalito "Rhubarb." He was discovered in a service station there by a friend of ours whom we shall call Dick. The Bay Area counterpart of the extremely aggressive fictional puss is named Uncle George, and he is a large, grey, striped animal.

The service station attendant told Dick that he was trying to find a good home for Uncle George and Dick being a kind hearted guy who already had one cat figured that it was just as easy to maintain two felines as one. So he took Uncle George home.

The instant Uncle George set foot in Dick's flat, he sized up his new home, and to judge from his subsequent actions, he must have said to himself, "Mine! All Mine!"

Dick's other cat was a fairly young blade who was in the habit of coming home every night not later than 10 p.m. Tonight, however, Uncle George, escorted him around the town and it wasn't until 4 in the morning that the two cats returned. And in what condition! Ragged ears—bloody noses—tufts of fur missing—scratched faces—

It was their attitude, though, that bothered Dick the most. They sat looking at him with wide, innocent stares, just as if they had been peacefully asleep in front of the fire since dinner time.

Naturally, Dick was not the man to condemn a cat on just one performance. So he didn't take him back to the service station the next day.

And Uncle George was not a cat who would compromise with his individuality. Night after night he continued leading Dick's other cat astray and day after day he continued taking over ownership of Dick's flat. Then came the night when Uncle George decided that as long as it was his flat anyway, why should Dick keep on sleeping in the bed.

So that night he made himself comfortable in Dick's bed. Not

How are you? I hope you are fine. I am fine and I want a hopalong cassidy suit for me and a doll for my sister and a apron for my mother and a pipe for my father.

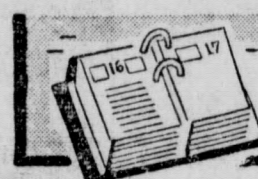

Billie Kerns, age 7

Dear Santa Claus: We have our Christmas tree so you won't have to bring that, but I want a set of paints and some paper dolls and a doll house with doll furniture.

Dottie McAllen, age 8

Dear Santa Claus: Are you fine? I am feeling all right. My father says that times are tuff and so I want just clothes and not toys to help out my father. So I want a new dress and a new coat and socks. I want a blue dress but if you don't have any, I will take a green dress.

Ethel Schultz, age 8 wanting to argue the issue, Dick just crawled in beside him. But Dick is not a quiet sleeper. He tosses and turns. This was too much for Uncle George. Every time that Dick tossed and turned, he showed his annoyance by nipping his benefactor on the legs.

That did it! Even a kind, patient man like Dick had reached the end of the rope. The next day he took Uncle George back to the Sausalito service station. And he probably still is there, unless someone else was deceived by his big, innocent stare into giving him another home.

What is the first thing you notice when you meet a stranger? Is it his eyes? His teeth? Or what? Psychologists tell us that it is the particular feature that you have that is especially attractive. In other words, if you have pretty eyes, the first thing you will notice about a stranger are his eyes. Does this work in your case?

FIVE GENERATIONS OF FAMILY LIVE HERE

Five generations of the Winland family at 171 Los Olivos are now in the Bay Area with the arrival here Monday of W. D. Winland's grandmother from Gillette, Wyoming.

The representative of the fifth generation arrived in the world on November 16th in the tiny person of Gordon Ray Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rasmussen. Completing the generation cycle in Winland's father, J. O. Winland of Palo Alto. The visitor from Wyoming is Mrs. W. H. Winland who plans an indefinite stay in Daly City.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Dollar Sense

LONG AGO, when I was cub reporter," writes Katharine Crosby MacInnis in Harpers Magazine, "my editor told me, when I asked for a raise, that if I couldn't live on $20 a week I couldn't live on $50. I thought then," continues this spirited article, which she calls Living High, "that he was weak in the head. But now I see that he was right."

Mrs. MacInnis and her husband have done nothing sensational in living happily and richly, and what is more important, living absolutely without fear, on an assured income of $90 a month. At least it oughtn't to be sensational. But it actually is.

Inevitable Story Her story is the inevitable one when a man and wife are determined to get what they want from life without beggary, debt, charity—or worry. Of course they went to an unfashionable neighborhood on the outskirts of town; their first home-owning venture was of a house that cost $825 and stood on a 50x120 lot, and had fruit trees. They preserved the fruit, raised vegetables, and paid $10 a month until they owned their place. After awhile they sold this house at a small profit and bought another, a bungalow with a view. Mrs. MacInnis rarely has to buy clothes; perhaps she would answer that as a dignified Boston lady did: "We do not buy hats; we have our hats." When they entertain they turn to good old Boston beans and Apple Jonathan. I don't know Apple Jonathan, but I do remember that my hospitalities years ago used to run to spanish omelet, hot biscuit, and chocolate cornstarch with a little orange peel in it, and I imagine that it is about as economical a menu.

"... had fruit trees..."

Of course the MacInnises sometimes augmented their income, which was not always as much as $90, in many small ways. But they lived on the $90 and put everything else aside for a backlog.

The backlog provides tickets when they travel. They are elderly persons and they love travel. Every little while they rent their house, go to some attractive place and settle down. They say that for what they want in the way of housing and food, expenses run about the same everywhere.

Gay Adventure

Well, theirs is a gay adventure, and you feel it as you read Living High. And you wonder how many families with five and 10 times that income are as free from worry, and, like them enjoying every minute of life. This woman has found the secret; the secret of not struggling to get more money than you legitimately can claim, for one thing, and not living at a rate that indicates that you have much more than you have. The difference between owing $453 in old bills, and having $453 in the bank, is the difference between freedom and slavery. And if slavery is the in-sufferable condition to us Americans, freedom is certainly the most prized and wonderful.

Make all the money you can, of course. Ask for the raise; climb to the higher place. Make a plan for success, and follow it. But while you are waiting, get down under your income, and you will find that elderrdown itself is not a more welcome covering on a cold night.

Life is short. It's a pity to miss the thrills that come from a good realistic look at one's affairs, and a heroic decision to tear up roots, burn bridges, tilt with windmills and in every other way defy metaphors and the opinion of the neighbors at the same time. For Mrs. MacInnis' editor was right; if you want to live on any income at all today, you can, without worry and without debt. You can see all the good old movies, you can buy all the classics, and you can eat well. And if you can't manage that on $1,500 a year you couldn't manage it on that much a month.

For proof of this look at my friends who have $1,500 a month. They are talking money trouble just as hard as everyone else.

They talk of taxes, insurance, equipment, dentist bills and the cost of private schools. One family I know on about that income keeps a son at a school whose charges are $200 a month. Junior recently borrowed another boy's car and had an accident. "So I suppose the next thing is a car for Junior," said his mother with a sigh.

Another family, whose income is not much more than $500 a month, crippled itself by payments of $190 a month on a pretentious home.

VILLAGE NOTES

BROADMOOR, GARDEN VILLAGE, COLMA by Mrs. Mark Swoverland PLaza 5-4158

One by one the Christmas trees are blossoming in the windows of Broadmoor Village, and the days are cold and sunny and clear. Ideal weather for entertaining.

HERE AND THERE Saturday, December 8, was the date of Carla Beckerman's birthday party celebrating her seventh year. The place was the Broadmoor Community Center and everyone had a wonderful time. Guests were Carla Gomez, Norma and Irvine Vladyska, Susan Stuer, Marge Savazza, Judith West, Mary Park, Jean Murphy, Patricia Brice, Meredith Green, Jenny Beckerman and Milla Griffin.

Sammy Marowitz was three years old last week and celebrated the occasion with sandwiches, ice cream and cake at the Village Play school cooperative which serves Westlake, Broadmoor and Daly City. Present were Jenny Beckerman, Robbie Cullen, Robbie Fernekes, Kenny Freiberg, Russy Green, Karen Guyman, Marilyn and Phyllis Halpern, Claudia and Ralphie Johnson, Bonnie Kreutzer, Mike Leonard, John Liska, Owen and Sam Marowitz, Carol Miller, Jamie Palazy, Billy Parks, Patsy Phillips, David Reichard, Jerry nkir, Cathy Terzian, Jennifer Angley, Mike Connolly, Tommy and Debbie Lee, Bruce Dahl and Corky Appleton.

The Village Play School cooperative elected its new officers recently: Mrs. Maurine Guyman, president; Mrs. John Hingley, vice president; Mrs. Lorraine Lee, secretary and Mrs. Frieda Johnson, treasurer.

The Broadmoor Community church Sunday school classes are having their annual Christmas parties this week. The kindergarten class holds its Friday afternoon, December 14th; the junior intermediate on Friday evening and the nursery class on Saturday afternoon, December 15th.

LARCHMONT

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings and their daughter, Barbara, moved from LaFayette into the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. George Bateman, who departed our fair village for San Francisco to be nearer his work.

GARDEN VILLAGE

Barry Beinner hosted friends at a luncheon-theatre party in honor of his eleventh birthday on Saturday, December 8th. Hugely enjoying the occasion were Edmond Crys, Billy Spy, Den Brendestret, Eric Faust, Roddy and David Chisholm and Brent Chon.

BRADLEY STREET

Four year old Mary Jane Miles had a birthday party Saturday, December 8th, but got her best present a few days later when her mother, Mrs. Elmond Miles, gave

Ladies Auxiliary Engages In Christmas Treats For Veterans

Christmas hospital activities occupied the attention of members of the San Francisco All Navy Veterans of Foreign Wars ladies' auxiliary recently.

Hospital chairman, Miriam Bushore, announced that the auxiliary was scheduled to make a gift of several dozen bedside bags to the veterans at Letterman hospital Wednesday. These bags are multi-pocketed washable muslin bags in which the veterans store their small personal possessions while hospitalized.

They were made by Lucille Evans, patriotic instructor of the auxiliary. Funds for the materials were raised at a recent "fun party" held at the home of Mrs. Mathilda Gianola, president.

Those who planned to participate in Wednesday's hospital trip were Mrs. Bushore, Irene Library, Chrystal Thomas, Lucille Evans, Elsie Balkovich, Mattie Grimm, Marjorie Jones, Beulah Miller, Rose Marie Plummer, Dorothy Herman, Haviland M. Jones and Ray Thomas.

The auxiliary is working on afghans to be presented at a later date. December 8th, Mrs. Bushore and Mrs. Library went to Fort Miley with a gift of ice cream for the veterans.

Saturday evening, December 15, the auxiliary together with the post will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Thomas, 66 Kempton street, Daly City, at the annual Christmas party.

The auxiliary would like to invite all wives, sisters, mothers, daughters of Marines, sailors, Merchant Marines to join it in service for the veterans of all foreign wars who have seen service overseas. For information call the president, Mrs. Gianola, JU. 7-3099 or Mrs. Library, JU. 4-6052.

Church Choir Will Present Christmas Program At Church Sunday

The church choir of the Grace Presbyterian church is presenting a special Christmas musical program, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The program is under the leadership of Miss Marian Walker, the director, and is being accompanied by Mrs. Einar Hanson, organist. The public is cordially invited.

Following is the program: Organ selections "Jesus, Joy Of My Endeavor," pianist, Mrs. William Myers. "Hark, What Mean Those Holy Voices," soloist, Mrs. William Patton.

"Carol Of The Bells" by the Power Band before the making of said sale. Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America, ten per cent. of the purchase price to be paid on day of sale, balance on confirmation.

BROADMOOR LEGION SELLS XMAS TREES

Christmas trees at reasonable prices are being offered by the members of the Broadmoor American Legion Post No. 824, at the Gallo Furniture Auction building, 2155 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Hours for this annual Christmas tree sale are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. except on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays when the sale will be from 11 a.m. to midnight. Profits from the sale of these trees will be used for the children's Christmas party.

Child Receives Cut On Head

Joel Hemelt, five years old, had four stitches taken for a cut on his head at the Junipero Serra hospital Sunday where he was rushed by his parents.

The cut was the result of the child being struck by a rock thrown by another boy whose identity is unknown according to report of Daly City police.

Two Jeff High Teachers At Meet

Teachers Assn. Program Noted

Leaders of the San Mateo County Teachers Association took off last Thursday for the semi-annual State Meeting of the California Teachers Association, held at the Alexandria Hotel in Los Angeles Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8.

Among those making the trip were: Marjorie Reandeau of Jefferson high school, international relations committee; and Victor G. Binsacca of Jefferson high school, welfare committee.

Scheduled for discussion at the meeting were professional development programs, state-wide policy on legislative matters, and welfare and international relations.

HAL ROACH is reviving the old "Our Gang Comedies" for TV, but will run them as "Little Rascals" since MGM owns the other title. The script used by Eddie Cantor for his first west-to-east TV show will go into the Library of Congress. Joe E. Brown has signed for a TV kiddie series over CBS Sunday mornings. Roy Rogers' new film series is due to hit TV screens around mid-December. Japan should have television early next year, according to present plans. Sopie Tucker, who made her TV debut on Jimmy Durante's show last season, is kicking for her own program. If top comedians have their way, you will find fewer hour-long TV comedy shows next year. What they would like are half or three-quarter hour shows spotted every other week to allow better material and fresher approach. After viewing dozens of each type, we're inclined to go along with the comedians. The best on TV, for our money, are Red Skelton and Herb Shriner, each of whom has a half-hour, weekly show that is unpretentious yet hilarious. The hour-long revues are at the boring stage and they're thieves of talent.

PLATTER CHATTER

CAPITOL: The ever lovely "Lord's Prayer" is given an effective rendition by Eddie Dean. "Beloved Enemy" backs it. Margaret Whiting and Jimmy Wakely join voices in "I Don't Want To Be Free" which easily could be another "Slipping Around" so far as best sellers go. It's got a lifting swing that's so popular right now. "Let's Live a Little" is on the flip. Ray Anthony does a fine instrumental on "Deep Night." "With All My Heart and Soul" is on the reverse. Cutest of the new Christmas ditties is Mel Blanc's "I Tant Wait Till Quiltnuth." It's backed by "Christmas Chopsicks."

Continuing on Capitol, one of the finest of the new discs out this season combines two favorite Christmas songs done by the wonderful Walter Schumann Chorus. The songs are "White Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland" and this waxing is very highly recommended for sheer loveliness. The Four Knights revive "In the Chapel in the Moonlight."

Bayshore Church Holds Evangelistic Services Bayshore Baptist church is sponsoring the evangelistic services of Dr. Harry O. Anderson all this week until December 17th, at 7:30 p.m. nightly except Saturday.

Every evening there will be special and different features all emphasizing a "Really Know Christ Crusade." Dr. Anderson is a world traveler, author and Christian leader. He was a recent guest at the White House.

Hydraulic mining is believed to have originated in Nevada county.

Pastor Becomes Member Of Veteran Group

Father Anthony F. Morrissey, pastor of Holy Angels church in Colma, is a recent member of the Edmund Parrott Chapter No. 16, Disabled American Veterans.

Place Orders Now For Relish Bakery Goods

Orders for desserts from the Relish Bakery at 6356 Mission street, should be placed as soon as possible as the bakery will be closed Christmas day and the day following.

Pumpkin and mince pies, whipped cream cakes and other holiday and festive desserts are some of the merchandise for which orders should be placed immediately so that patrons of this bakery will not lack these delicious items for their yuletide dinners and parties.

County Offers Local CD Wardens Special Training

Course To Open "About" Feb. 1

Adult education schools of San Mateo county will present Civil Defense training courses for wardens beginning about February 1.

Wardens courses will be the first of many expected to be offered for Civil Defense workers by adult schools of the county.

This decision was reached at a recent meeting of the Joint Cities-County Civil Defense Planning Board in the County Courthouse.

The first course will be for Chief Wardens, their assistants, and future instructors of wardens.

The action comes as the result of meetings of adult school educators with County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey, who is also Civil Defense Chief of Public Training and Education. On Tuesday, December 4th, first plans were laid for presenting uniform courses throughout the county.

The plans were presented to the Joint Cities-County Board in the form of a resolution on behalf of the school men. Their action in accepting followed.

Edward C. Lanphier of the San Mateo Junior College and Robert M. Moore of Superintendent Tormey's staff supervised the school men's plans. Captain C. J. Ballreich, Coordinator of Civil Defense for San Mateo county, will work with the school men in planning the courses.

The Nativity Play Slated December 18

The children of the new St. Michael's School located at 55 Farallones street will present a play "The Nativity" on December 18 at 8 p.m.

This is the first public performance of the pupils under the tutelage of The Daughters of Mary and Joseph.

An admission charge is being made to raise funds for the benefit of the Chapel in the Convent. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The principal chemical constituents of coffee are caffeine and caffel.

Timossi Motors Features 1952 Chrysler Friday

Refinements Highlight All New Models

Refinements throughout the line, rather than revolutionary engineering innovations, characterize Chrysler's 1952 models, which will be on display at Timossi Motors, 6888 Mission, December 14.

There are two fundamental reasons why changes are less sweeping than generally is the case with the introduction of a new Chrysler line, it is explained by Joseph A. O'Malley, general sales manager of Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

"The demands of the rearmament program have created a situation in the machine tool industry that would preclude the extensive tooling program entailed by drastic model changes," says Mr. O'Malley. "Furthermore, Chrysler introduced more important new features in its 1951 line than ever before were offered by any manufacturer in a single year. These included the 180-horsepower V-8 FirePower engine, Hydrazide power steering, Oriflow shock absorbers and Fluid-Torque Drive torque converter.

"The tremendous public reception of the 1951 cars, plus the shortage of materials, prevented our coming anywhere near filling the demand for them this year and we carry into 1952 a bank of orders that will be augmented by the improvements in our new line. We believe that our current vehicles are far ahead of the times."

The refinements available in the 1952 cars are contributors to performance, appearance, safety, economy and comfort. Certain features heretofore available only in certain models have been extended to cover the entire line. Dimensionally, all body styles are the same as corresponding models of the 1951 line.

18 Body Styles

The number of body styles offered by Chrysler has been considerably reduced by eliminating those of smaller production and those that are approximated by others retained in the line. Despite this reduction, however, there remain 18 body styles, so that the customer has a wide selection.

All models save those in the Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe lines are powered by the 180-horsepower V-8 FirePower engine. The Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe have an improved version of the Chrysler six-cylinder "Spitfire" engine, higher powered and designed for improved performance and longer life. The torque available from this engine is higher at all speeds than that obtainable in the one it supersedes. The torque curve is much flatter at the peak and indicates an improved performance at normal driving speeds.

The bore remains unchanged at 3-7/16 inches but the stroke has been increased from 4 1/2 to 4 3/4, increasing cubic displacement from 250.6 to 264.5. The engine produces 119 horsepower with a compression ratio of 7 to 1.

Longer life, improved economy and greater scuff resistance result from the use of the new chromium-plated top piston rings and new wide-slot oil rings. Improved cooling in the six-cylinder models is accomplished by a seven pound pressure release vent radiator cap which lessens the possibility of coolant loss due to boiling.

Power Steering

Hydrazide steering, which proved to be one of the most popular engineering advances ever offered by Chrysler, will be available also on the 1952 Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe lines, instead of only on the eight-cylinder models, as was the case in 1951. It will be optional at extra cost, except in the Crown Imperial where it remains standard.

Quieter operation of the Oriflow shock absorbers introduced as standard equipment on all models in 1951 is attained by refinement of the piston and base valve assemblies, permitting a more gradual change in the velocities of the fluids at the discharge ends of the orifices.

MANNERLY DRIVING

Whenever there's a question of who has the right of way, let courtesy be your guide. The California State Automobile Association reminds you that "Good Manners Make Good Drivers."

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.—Pfc. Melvin E. Scheidt, son of Mr. Peter E. Scheidt, 187 Winchester street, recently completed his assigned course in The Signal School and is now awaiting orders for transfer to duty in his new Military Occupational Specialty. Pfc. Scheidt received his diploma December 4, in formal graduation exercises signifying the completion of the course in Signal Corps communications.

Undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., is Edwin O. Underwood, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Underwood of 357 Westlake avenue. Before entering the Navy, he worked for the Southern Pacific Railroad Co.

This initial training includes instruction in such fields as seamanship, fire-fighting, gunnery, signaling, and other courses designed to make the recruit well-versed in every phase of Navy life. Upon completion of their 11-week training period at the training center, graduates are assigned to duty stations with the Fleet or at Navy shore stations, or are sent to service schools for advanced technical training.

Colma-Vista Grande Aerie To Celebrate 160th Anniversary Of Ten Amendments

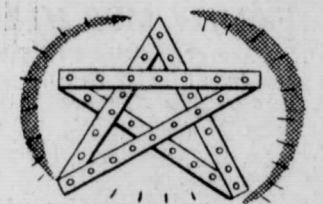

Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848 will celebrate the 160th Anniversary of the adoption of the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States, which are commonly known as our American Bill of Rights, it was announced today by Mel Battye, secretary of the local Eagles Aerie.

Secretary Mel Battye announced that the Aerie would have a special program at its regular meeting on December 29, devoted to the observance of Bill of Rights Day which is Saturday, December 15.

"The anniversary of the adoption of our American Bill of Rights should be a day of deep significance and meaning to each individual American," Battye said. He went on to say "The Fraternal Order of Eagles feels that for too long Americans have neglected this most significant Anniversary and this year, Eagle Aeries throughout the nation will hold special programs devoted to the observance of Bill of Rights Day." It was also announced that Judge William Sweeney has been invited to speak at the meeting.

Our block is bright with Christmas cheer
...we're all using outdoor lighting!

One of our neighbors started out with a large lighted star for the roof of his house. Star can be shaped from composition board or metal. Holes drilled for the bulbs finish it off!

One of the best in our block is a big wreath that frames the front door. Greens can be woven into common poultry mesh with red outdoor lights for berries. It's easy and Christmas bright!

Another family in our block is using one of the simplest... but most effective outdoor lighting plans. They bought a string of outdoor lights and dressed up a large bush in their yard.

See your local appliance dealer for new and inexpensive Christmas lighting ideas!

Outdoor lighting costs only pennies a night to use because electricity is so cheap in California! P. G. and E. rates are far below the U. S. average!

School Group To Hold Xmas Party

Annual Christmas party of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother Club will be held immediately following the regular December meeting of the group, Friday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, 8 Wellington avenue.

This year the customary gift exchange will be superseded by the provision of gifts for the less fortunate children in the parish.

A festive evening is planned by Mrs. J. Balestreri, whose table decorations and refreshments will reflect the mood of the holiday season.

HEADLIGHT BEAMS AND NIGHT BLINDNESS

Poorly adjusted headlight beams are a major cause of night blindness among motorists, according to the National Automobile Club. Protect yourself as well as you fellows by making a regular check on your lights for proper focus and working order.

of December 20, on our American Bill of Rights.

Battye announces that in Philadelphia, Pa. on December 1st, the Eagles dedicated the special Universal Entrance to the Chaplains Memorial Chapel. The Entrance will also have an eternal light.

Eagle units throughout the country have been asked to help in the raising of funds for the Entrance.

The dedication was made by Robert Hansen, Past Grand Worthy President of the Eagles and now executive director and general counsel of the All-American Conference to Combat Communism. Also present was the Rev. Daniel Poling, Chaplain of the Chapel.

The Eagles donated the money by which the Entrance and the Eternal Light were made possible for this Chapel, which is dedicated to the Four Chaplains who gave their lives on the U.S.S. Dorchester when she was torpedoed during the second World War. The four chaplains, one of whom was Dr. Poling's son, gave their life-belt to troops on board the ship as it was to Europe.

Eagle dignitaries from many parts of the country were present for the ceremonies. Leading the contingent were Grand Worthy President, William P. Weatherall of Zanesville, Ohio, accompanied by Eagles' Treasurer, Charles Guenther of Kansas City, a Grand Worthy President, John V. Heller Jr., of York, Pa.

Principal speaker at the ceremonies was Pennsylvania Governor, John S. Fine, who is also member of the Eagles.

Dr. Poling has been working with the Eagles since 1950 when he first requested their support at the Fraternity's convention in Minneapolis.

NIGHT LIFE AT CIRO'S
by
RIDGE CUMMINGS

You are listening to a man who has just put away forty dollars worth of groceries at one sitting. In select company too.

I started off with a crab cocktail listed at $1.50 and wound up with a New York cut, charcoal broiled sirloin steak three inches thick at $5.50. The prices in between would have made my hair stand on edge if I had been compelled to pay the bill.

The way it happened was, some weeks ago at minor hazard to life and limb I was able to do a kindly deed for a Los Angeles drama editor. He thanked me profusely and I waved aside his fulsome expressions of esteem with modesty.

"Twern't nothing," I said. "I'd do the same thing for Hedy La-Marr or Harry Truman any old time."

"Nevertheless I won't forget it old boy," said the drama editor, wringing my hand with a Mix-master motion.

Movie Stars

He didn't. The other evening he phoned and asked if I'd do him the favor of covering an opening at Ciro's. Ciro's is a select night club on the Sunset Strip. It is patronized almost exclusively by movie stars, Texas oil well owners, politicians, wealthy aged gents (agents) with beautiful girls for whom they have picture aspirations, and wealthy dowagers accompanied by reformed pugilists.

The old time gigolo, suave and dainty, has gone out of style, judging from my observations on this occasion. He has been replaced by the battered, virile type with broad shoulders and inch-long hair on his knuckles.

I accepted the invitation with

Ordinance No. 346

ORDINANCE NO. 294 OF THE CITY OF DALY CITY

The City Council of the City of Daly City does ordain as follows: WHEREAS, pursuant to Ordinance No. 294 of the City of Daly City, the City Council of said City has heretofore planned to rezone certain property hereinafter described, and

WHEREAS, said matter was set for hearing on the 13th day of November, 1951, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. at the Council Chambers, City Hall, Daly City, California, and

WHEREAS, the publishing and posting of said hearing was completed in conformity with said ordinance; and

WHEREAS, the City Council finds that said land is suitable for use as proposed and is in harmony with the general purpose of said ordinance;

NOW, THEREFORE, said Ordinance No. 294 is amended so as to change the zoning classification of that certain property in the City of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, as follows:

Lots 56, 57, 58, 59, 60 and 61 in Block 6, Castle Tract, to R-3 Classification.

Introduced this 26th day of November, 1951.

Passed and adopted as an ordinance of the City of Daly City the 10th day of December, 1951, by the following vote:

some trepidation, explaining that I didn't own a tuxedo.

"You really don't need one so long as your girl friend wears an evening gown," the drama editor informed me. "You've got a dark suit, haven't you?"

I admitted that I had.

"That'll do it," he said. "There's a dinner in it and all you can drink up to forty bucks. You get paid the usual review fee and we'll reimburse you for tips but don't go hogwild on them. And when you drive up be sure to mention my name to the doorman. He'll roll out the red carpet for you."

Find A Gal

So I was on my own. All I had to do was find a girl who owned both an evening gown and a car. It's surprising how many charming creatures are eliminated by the latter. In Hollywood a man is lost without a gasoline buggy, which is one reason I sometimes find myself playing left field. But an attractive girl doesn't need any equipment except what nature gave her, since usually she can depend upon her escort for transportation.

Well, not to get too personal about all this, I finally solved that problem and rode up to the door in a style to which I'm not accustomed.

The name worked. The doorman handed us to the maitre d'. He led us to the check room, where a little bit of femininity wearing hip-length black silk stockings and not much else relieved me of my topcoat.

Table B

The maitre d' turned us over to the captain of waiters. He ushered us to table B, ringside, and called over a middle-aged waiter with a kind face and a Swiss accent.

My companion ordered a vodka gibson, which looks something like a martini, and I settled for a scotch and soda. After we had taken one sip the waiter asked if we'd have another of the same. I nodded and thereafter the drinks came in steady procession without any more overt gestures on my part.

I'm not what is known as a drinking man but frankly there's not much else to do at these swanky joints except drink, dine, dance and stare at one's neighbors. Unless one wants to engage in fisticuffs, and I was out of training.

An alcoholic haze apparently makes for glamour. It was, I must confess, just a trifle dull until the scotch began to take effect.

I saw all sorts of mink coats and starched white shirt fronts with a variety of faces above them but the patrons were pretty much the same sort of people you meet at Joe's Beanyery except that their costumes were a little fancier and they had shave a little closer or put on more lipstick.

Things livened up a little when the Ciro publicity man, Jim Byron, came over to our table and began pointing out celebrities.

Hilton Heir

But he had gone only halfway through the list of who's who in Hollywood when the arrival of the Hilton heir and Betsy Von something or other called him away. I think he said young Hilton was named Nicky and that Betsy was a countess or a duchess but I didn't take notes so can't swear to it.

Anyway they were a thoroughly average looking young couple. The hotel heir wasn't even wearing a dark suit but a conservative grey business outfit, which made me feel superior in spite of all his millions.

When the kindly waiter brought

Ordinance No. 347

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE CARE, RESTITUTION, SALE AND DESTRUCTION OF UNCLAIMED PROPERTY.

The City Council of the City of Daly City does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of all officers and employees of the City of Daly City whenever they find within the corporate limits of said City, or whenever there comes into their possession any personal property which such finder or possessor has reason to believe may have been stolen, lost, or abandoned, to deliver the same to the Chief of Police.

SECTION 2. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police to take charge of and keep in his possession said property, and he must within a reasonable time inform the owner thereof, if known, and make restitution to him of such property upon demand without compensation. Should any such property remain unclaimed by its true owner for a period of six months from the date of finding, the Chief of Police shall make an inventory of said property and file same with the City Administrative Officer. Upon the expiration of three weeks from the time of filing said inventory with the City Administrative Officer, the Chief of Police is hereby authorized and required to cause the same to be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. Notice of such sale shall be given by the Chief of Police at least five days before the time fixed therefore, by publication in the Daly City Record, a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Daly City, California. Said notice shall contain a statement of the time and place fixed for the sale, together with a schedule of the property to be offered for sale. Immediately after the completion of any such sale, the Chief of Police shall give to the City Treasurer a statement of the proceeds thereof, together with the expenses incurred in concluding said sale. Said Chief of Police shall forthwith pay such proceeds to the City Treasurer and the City Treasurer, after deducting the necessary expenses actually incurred, shall deposit the balance thereof in the General Fund.

SECTION 3. If there be no bids for any such property offered for sale at such auction, it shall be turned over to the City Administrative Officer who shall make such disposition thereof in the public interest as he shall deem fit.

SECTION 4. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5. This Ordinance shall take effect 30 days after the date of its adoption, and prior to the expiration of 15 days from the passage thereof shall be published at least once in the Daly City Record, a newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in the City of Daly City, and thereafter and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

Introduced this 26th day of November, 1951.

Indians Slate Three Warm-Ups Next Week

Tiny Trantham Sinks Eleven Points As Varsity Loses To Riordan 51-44

With the holiday season near, Jefferson basketball squads will hold three practice games Friday afternoon and next week, and then wrap up until after the first of the year.

The Indians meet Balboa Friday afternoon at Jeff, host Tamalpais on Tuesday, and conclude with a contest at Washington high school in San Francisco on Wednesday.

Thus far this season the Varsity has dropped two warm-up games, losing to Mission high a week ago, and dropping a 51-44 contest to Riordan high last Tuesday.

However, Coach Mike Orlich has no concern for wins or losses at this time. Still seeking the right combination to open the PAL league against San Jose on January 12, Orlich has been working with several combinations.

Newest hope to emerge from the 30-man squad, and no doubt the smallest, is Dick Trantham, who moved up from the 130s, when he missed the age limit by one month.

Only 5' 3" in height and weighing 115 pounds, Trantham gave notice to the big boys to beware, sinking 11 points against Riordan. Larry Hutchinson, also on the 130s, moved to the varsity because of the age limit.

While adding strength to the varsity, the loss of Trantham and Hutchinson has seriously hampered Coach Joe McGrath's 130 team's chances.

Both men were slated for first string berths. Trantham can hold his own with the short or the tall, but his scoring potentials would have been greater with the smaller men on the 130 squad.

Their absence showed up in the score of the 130 contest, the Junior Indians losing 51-21. Ray Rosa and Don Rose were high with 6 points each.

Tagged Fish Pop Up In Wrong Place

Some fishes apparently don't know which way is up—or else they don't care.

Fish-tagging crews on the Sacramento River, doing a salmon and steelhead population count for the California Department of Fish and Game, are trying to figure this one out.

In tagging salmon and steelhead near Knights' Landing, some 20 miles above Sacramento, the fishes obviously are headed upstream to spawn. This is the spawning season and all the books say this is what every sensible adult salmon and steelhead must do—go upstream and raise a family.

Yet so far seven salmon and one steelhead, tagged this season by the State crew, have been recovered between Rio Vista and Collinsville, 60 to 75 miles downstream.

"A downstream movement of this distance is not unheard of, but it is unprecedented to have this many fish involved," commented the biologist in charge of the project. "It's just another example of why fisheries research is interesting—and necessary."

Double-barreled bicycle stealing was reported to Daly City police Sunday.

The bicycles of both Bill and Ronald Jones of 49 Knowles avenue, were stolen from their yard Sunday night.

College, Central Gain In Tourney

College Hill Market and Central, moved into a second place tie, and only two games behind the league leading Daly City-Colma Lions, in the Merchants bowling league.

Joe Belli, Daly City Lions, bowled the week's high game, knocking down the pins for a 245 game. Belli's score topped all previous high games in the 13 week old league. He emerged with a 522 series.

Paul Bruch of Lombardi's auto Service maintained his consistent high kegling, garnering games of 187-192-214 for a 593 series. Bill Watson, of Central bowled a 571 series with a 205 high game.

Reaching the halfway mark in the Daly City-Colma merchants league next week, there will be a two-week layoff until after the holidays.

Students Support Current Christmas Seal Fund Drive

Children To Wear Double-Barred Cross

Thousands of Double-Barred Crosses will be worn home this week by students of the San Mateo county public schools as reminders of the Tuberculosis Association's fight against the disease in San Mateo county, it was announced today by Judge Edmund Scott, County Chairman of the 1951 Christmas Seal Sale.

The red Double-Barred Cross is the registered insignia of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 3,000 affiliates, among which is the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association, and is the symbol of the international campaign against tuberculosis.

Observance of Double-Barred Cross Day in the schools will include talks during assembly periods on tuberculosis and the work being done here to curb the disease. Motion pictures will be shown and leaflets on the story of the Christmas Seal distributed.

"Everyone who buys Christmas Seals and wears the Double-Barred Cross," Judge Scott said, "shows his appreciation for the work the Association has done, and will continue to do, to make this a healthier community in which to live."

Women Of Moose Plan Xmas Fetes

Women of the Moose, Chapter 739, under the direction of Moosehaven Chairman Pearl Jones, will put on a Christmas dinner December 27 at 8 p.m., before they hold their meeting.

There will be an initiation class and exchanging of gifts. Entertainment is to be given by the Women of the Moose Choral Group and William Stauffer son of Mooseheart Chairman Adelaide Baker. Several of the numbers will consist of Christmas Carols.

Meanwhile, the women under the chairmanship of Social Service Chairman Madeline Fah will take over the charge of serving the Christmas party for the Cerebral Palsy children.

The Christmas party is under the direction of Mrs. John Simms associated with the United Cerebral Palsy Association. The party will take place on December 22, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the First Christian Church at Duboce and Noe streets.

WINTER CONDITIONING
A complete checkup of your car's electrical system is in order now, recommends the California State Automobile Association. The effect of winter weather is usually noticed in the electrical system first. Poorly insulated wires may continue to carry sufficient energy to operate the car during dry weather but current leaks develop into short circuits when rainy weather is prevalent.

CALENDAR SPORTSMAN'S

The Division of Fish and Game reminds California sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing:

BEARS

Ends December 31. Bag limit: 1 bear in Siskiyou, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Modoc and Plumas counties; 2 bears elsewhere. No closed season or bag limit in Del Norte, Humboldt and Mendocino counties.

WATER FOWL

Ends January 5 along Colorado river; ends December 24 elsewhere. Bag and possession limits: 6 ducks, 6 geese, 15 coots, 25 mergansers; no more than 1 wood duck, 2 Canada geese or subspecies, 2 whitefronted geese, or 3 brandt. Shooting hours: one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

QUAIL

Closed in Inyo and Mono counties and southeastern area; ends December 15 in District 134; ends December 31 elsewhere. Bag and possession limits: 8 per day.

PIGEONS

December 17 to December 31. Daily bag and possession limits: 6. Shotguns must be plugged.

STEELHEAD TROUT AND SALMON

Ends January 31 in specified waters of Siskiyou and Trinity counties, bag limit: 3 trout or salmon or combination; December 1 to February 29 in specified waters of central California counties, bag limit: 2 trout or salmon or combination; ends February 29 in other specified waters of central and southern California counties, bag limit: 2 trout or salmon or combination.

Juniors Drill For Cage League

Gridders Among Casaba Turnouts

Practice has commenced for the forthcoming basketball season with teams from O.L.P.H. and the Colma schools taking part in the drills of fundamentals and conditioning for a rigorous season.

There will be two leagues consisting of class A and class B competition. The schedule of games will be presented in the near future. From all indications both leagues will be represented by many football players who have signed up for the casaba sport.

Familiar names as Bob Grubb, Jerry Greunwald, Darrell Hutchinson, Cortez Fernandez, John Lucia, Herman Stevenson, Don Perin, Nick Sutter, Frank Bricker, Dary Hall, Andy Auelas, Jack Brush, and many other boys who performed on the grid iron will be playing on the hardwood floor of the Jefferson Union School Gym.

AVOID TIRE BLOWOUTS

High speed driving and overloading causes most tire blowouts, warns the California State Automobile Association. Fast driving generates heat and constant flexing of an overloaded tire causes additional heat to develop with the result that a worn tire may blow out without warning.

All in the Game:

JAPANESE BASEBALL FANS
lined the streets of Tokyo recently and shouted "Banzai Di Magglo!" as the American arrived for a series of exhibition games. Jack Redmond, famous trick shot golfer, can drive the middle ball of three without touching the other two. Highest payoff in American turf history was $1885 for a $2 ticket on Wishing Ring at Latonia, Ky., in 1922. Yank Frank Crossetti has drawn 10 world series checks. The initial velocity of a driven golf ball has been clocked at 170 m.p.h. Once more, army, navy and marine stations are fielding strong football teams. Ned Garver was the first pitcher for a last-place ball club ever to start an all-star game. Randy Turpin's brother Dick was the first Negro permitted to engage in a title bout by the British board of boxing control. At a dog track in Massachusetts, a dog named Ichy Boy was scratched from a race. Bob Feller credits his successful season to the batting of the Indians.

Sequoia Block "S" Holds Sport Circus To Assist Building Of S. M. Blood Bank

"Mr. America of 1951," along with top-ranking collegiate sports title holders, will hold a Sports Circus in the gymnasium of Sequoia high school, Redwood City, this Saturday at 8 p.m.

Fifty per cent of the proceeds will go to the building fund of the San Mateo County Blood Bank, according to Bruce Harlan, physical education teacher at Sequoia. The affair is being presented by the Block S students.

The appearance of muscular Roy Hilligan of Oakland, who won the Mr. America contest recently, will highlight the program.

Mac Martinez, a national collegiate boxing champ of 1951, will go three rounds with Al Tofoya of San Jose, holder of a Pacific Coast collegiate boxing championship.

Russell O'Connor, a "Black belt" judo expert, will demonstrate how, with judo, one can overcome opponents armed with guns, knives and clubs. He will be assisted by students of the U. S. Judo School, San Jose.

Frank Waxhausen, of San Jose

State college, coast collegiate wrestling champ, will pit his skill against AAY champion, Dr. M. A. Northrup.

Charles Keany, University of California gym coach, will appear with a group of his top gymnasts in a fast moving diversified tumbling and trapeze showing.

Charles Thompson, of Sequoia's gym staff, will repeat the mat work which helped win him a national collegiate tumbling championship award.

Outstanding gymnasts of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, headed by John Gardner, gym instructor, and the Block S group of Sequoia, will terminate the big sports program.

Dangerous situations in traffic can materialize within one second, warns the California State Automobile Association. The good driver is always alert for such emergencies and keeps his attention centered on the job of driving.

Levitations Defeat Sarto A.C. 12-3 In Title Clash

The Levitation's guns proved too much for Sarto AC as the Matetan's walloped the locals 12-3 to take the Peninsula Winter league baseball championship last Sunday.

With Dave Dahle, former Stanford pitcher, fanning 11 batters, scattering nine hits and allowing three runs, the Levitations sluggers banged 16 basehits off the offerings of three Sarto pitchers.

Four hits and five runs sent Babe Ottomello to the showers in the second frame. Don Mossi lasted until the fifth allowing four more runs, and Bob Thollander hurled the final three innings.

Sarto gained two runs in the fourth, when Neil Nordstrom doubled, moved to third on Ron Roots walk, and came home on an error at shortstop. Three singles produced the locals final run in the fifth frame. The locals had six errors.

Chet Rosenlund and Jack Baccico both hammered three hits in five trips to the plate, while Nordstrom and Parodi shared four of the locals 9 walkups.

Ottomello was the losing pitcher.

Local Diamond Star Is Guest Of Lions Club

Ed Cereghino, San Francisco Seals pitcher, and Miss Gloria Shattuck, member of San Mateo Health association, shared the speakers stand at the Daly City-Colma Lions weekly luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Miss Shattuck spoke on tuberculosis, the preventatives being used, and what is being accomplished to combat the disease.

Cereghino, who recently returned from a baseball tour of Japan, related some of the highlights of his trip, and told of the Japanese's interest in baseball.

A Christmas program will highlight the last Lions meeting of the year, with the South San Francisco Lions invited at the Club Casino. Wives of members of the Lions will accompany their husbands.

Vince and Freds Smash Tufo 17-3

Bruno Della Libera and Vince Voto shared a brilliant pitching battle for Vince and Freds. Quors, as the locals banged out decisive 17-3 victory over Tufo Jewelers last Sunday.

The two hurlers, who had decided to split the pitching assignment before the game, allowed three hits. The Vince and Freds had a field day at the plate slaming their opponents for 17 safeties.

Mickey DeBernardi wielded the biggest stick connecting for two doubles and one single in four trips, and knocking in four runs. Second baseman Joe Greys pitched three safeties also.

This marked Vince and Freds fourth victory in the Golden Gate Park AA league. Boasting a 4-1 record, the locals are tied for first place.

They tied Leslie Salt 4-4 when the game was called because of time limit.

Plant 80,000 Trout In Lake Merced

San Francisco's back yard fishing hole—Lake Merced—is rich this month by 80,000 trout fingerlings planted by the California Department of Fish and Game. When the angling season opens next April, the fish will have grown to 10 or 12-inch size.

The four to five-inch rainbow are part of the 1951 crop raised by the Bureau of Fish Conservation at its East Side Reservation rearing pond near Napa. Of 16,000 fingerlings stocked in the reservoir last spring, 127,555 were recovered and planted in Lake Merced and Marin and Napa county reservoirs.

The natural rearing pond Napa requires only one man maintenance, the Bureau reports. Trucks and equipment from the Central Valleys hatchery at E. Grove are used for planting operations.

Weighing 9,289 pounds, the largest trout crop cost the State agency a total of $4,236. Each pound of fish cost 52c, for an average of 4c per fish.

DON'T BE STIFF-NECKED

Don't rely on split-vision looking out of the corner of your eye to warn you of oncoming traffic at intersections. The only way is to turn your head and look both ways, says the California State Automobile Association.
